In 1901, to the dismay of the Hindu priests, Carmichael started rescuing children from temple prostitution. The priests were furious at Amy. They pressed charges against Carmichael, which were not dismissed until 1914. Not only were the priests upset because of Carmichael's ministry, but even the missionary community condemned Carmichael's work.

Amy Carmichael - Missionary to India

Carmichael left Japan due to health reasons, eventually returning to England. She soon accepted a position with the Church of England's Zenana Missionary Society, serving in India. From 1895 to 1925, her work with orphans in Tinnevely (now Tirunelveli) was supported by the Church of England.

Carmichael, Amy Beatrice (1867-1951) | History of Missiology

Carmichael often said that her Ministry of rescuing temple children started with a girl named Preena. Having become a temple servant against her wishes, Preena managed to escape. Amy Carmichael provided her shelter and withstood the threats of those who insisted that the girl be returned either to the temple directly to continue her sexual assignments, or to her family for more indirect return to the temple.
